

UNKNOWN HINSON

musician /songwriter /performer

*“He’s “ever womern’s dream and ever jealous husband’s nightmare.”

UNKNOWN HINSON is part poet, part predator, and part the result of a polluted, semi-civilized gene pool. The self-proclaimed ‘KING OF COUNTRY WESTERN TROUBADOURS’ is the most original thing to happen to music - Country or otherwise - in decades.

HINSON’S background is sketchy (he’s a product of the rough South and did time in sideshows on the carnival Midway). But his music and his message are undeniably clear: “Rawk is the devil’s music. You youngerns need to burn yore hippie rawk rakkerds, and learn how to act by listenin’ to the chart-toppin’ message of my lyrics and show-stoppin’ sound of my guit-tar playin’.”

UNKNOWN’S cult following is as unique as his sound. Classic rockers, iconic slackers, Gen-Y’ers, and Country fans are all among the HINSON devoted. When asked how he managed to attract fans of such diversity, UNKNOWN said that he considered himself to be “like a color. You got a lot of people who like blue - they don’t have to have anything else in common.”

For years, UNKNOWN has been revolting, mesmerizing, and entertaining fans at his live concerts. He’s played for crowds of 200-5000. Some go to a HINSON concert to take in his insanity and some go to marinate in UNKNOWN’S bombastic and strangely witty rants...but ALL go to hear him rock, because, despite UNKNOWN’S unwavering hatred of “Communist hippie rawk,” he does concede to play the devil’s music during his concerts, “just to show the youngerns that it don’t take no talent to play that mess.” And with that disclaimer, UNKNOWN HINSON, invoking the spirits of Jimi Hendrix, Pete Townshend and Dracula, unleashes a stunning, mind-blowing eruption of guitar insanity that shocks and rocks both the quick and the dead.

UNKNOWN HINSON: a living contradiction - he’s a moralist, yet his criminal record is legend. He screams about the evils of drugs, but he swears by his “party liquor.” He’s God’s gift to women, but he’s been slapped with countless restraining orders. And he’s the “King of Country Western Troubadours”, but his rock guitar playing is unequaled.

With “Rock’n’Roll Is Straight from Hell,” UNKNOWN HINSON’S debut on Capitol Records, this gifted spawn of the South was set loose on the world. And with his most recent Capitol release “The Future Is Unknown”, well, you should consider yourself warned.

THE FUTURE IS UNKNOWN!
